

Dear Fellow Film Students,

COUCH SURFING THE BERLINALE Goes ROUND 4!

Last year was again a great success, we had guests from film schools in over 10 different countries.

This year Berlin will host its 64th Berlinale from February 6th to February 16th 2014.

The International Film Festival is one of the greatest celebrations of film every year. We, students from the 'German Film and TV Academy Berlin' (www.dffb.de), located at the heart of the festival, have students from all over the world. We have filmmakers from countries like France, Spain, Russia, Poland, Hungary, Ukraine, Georgia, Israel, and Denmark.

To celebrate and extend that side of our school we would like to invite you, film students from wherever you are, to come and join us at the Festival.

We have 25 Student Accreditations to give away, first come, first served!

To build an active cooperation, we will arrange couch surfing accommodation in Berlin with the help of our student body, so that you actually get to meet fellow young filmmakers and stay with them during the festival.

To apply you have to:

- Be a student at a European film school
- Write us your aim, why you would like to come and what you hope to find during your stay.
- Be in Berlin from Friday the 7th in the afternoon to at least Wednesday the 12th of February 2014

We will welcome you and your hosts with a kick off dinner at our school on Friday the 7th of February to get to know each other before we all disappear in the blur of the Berlinale. We will also screen excerpts of every accepted film student so we get to know each other's work and film language.

If you are interested just write us an email to:

couchsurfing@dffb.de

Application Deadline: December 1st 2013

We will get in touch at the latest January 15th, please consider the amount of work and the time it takes us to answer.

We hope to hear from you soon! We are looking forward to meeting you in Berlin!

Best Regards,

The Students of the DFFB
